IT'S TIME TO BUILD

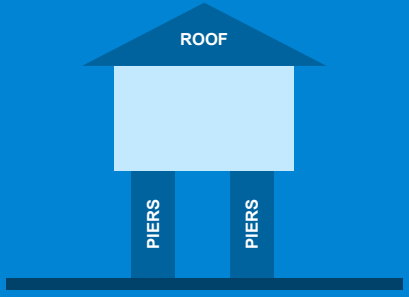

by Marc Andreessen

Every Western institution was unprepared for the coronavirus pandemic, despite many prior failures of institutional effectiveness will reverberate for the rest of the decade, but it's not too late for us to do about it.

Many of us would like to pin the cause on one political party or another, on one government or another, or on one Western country, or state, or city was prepared — and despite the extraordinary sacrifice by many people within these institutions. So the problem runs deeper.
